Maestrissimo is an allegro e molto vivace show, half way between a chamber music concert, satirical comedy and the portrait of a period, which shows, in sheer Yllana style, the adventures and misadventures of a string quartet at some undetermined time between the 17th and 18th centuries (Baroque and Neoclassicism).
A back up musician, a nameless third string with huge talent seeks to rise in the hierarchy and achieve the title of maestrissimo. Will his talent and genius be sufficient to make a name for himself in such a hierarchical world? Will he achieve the prestige which he rightfully deserves?
Along the same line as the show Pagagnini, but with its own identity, Maestrissimo addresses topics such as ethics, creation, originality and the value of art in society.
